

Summer 2010 Newsletter: Here comes the sun!!

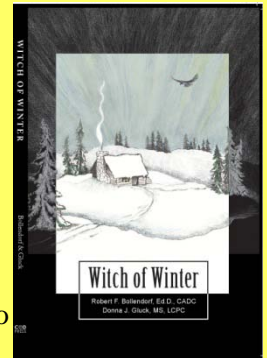

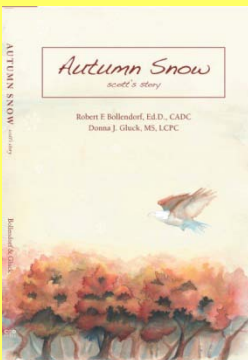

Summer has finally arrived and DG Counseling, Inc. wants to pass on to you their warmest wishes for a fresh new season!

So what has happened over @ DG since the spring newsletter?

- Last issue the folks at DG Counseling promised to reveal the new office manager. So without any further ado, our new office manager is...(drum roll please) DG massage therapist Jamie Bailey!
- DG Counselor/Graduate Level intern Nick Giannasi has officially accepted a position of employment at DG, which will be underway once he receives his LPC licensure.
- Just as a reminder, Donna Gluck's Published books can be purchased at the DG Website under the Helpful Resources link.
- Also, please be on the lookout for future book signings involving Donna Gluck and Robert Bollendorf (the dates of the signings will be posted under the "Power News" section of the website.

- DG Counselor Matt Rome will be coming out with a demo CD of original music entitled Knocking Down Castles before

August 2010, so please stay tuned for details regarding its availability on the DG Website and at our Downers Grove office location!
